Hornell Wins Title

Seth Cornell (Houghton) earned Championship Series Defensive honors tossing a complete game in the clincher as Hornell swept Oneonta, two games to none and took the 2014 NYCBL Championship Series. The right-hander struck out five and walked none for the win. Brandon Sandoval (Vanguard) collected four hits and grabbed CS MVP. Trailing by four in game one, the Dodgers rallied to win 8-6 and followed with a 6-4 triumph in game two. The championship was the fifth in franchise history and first since 2005. Oneonta’s Ramon Osuna-Sanchez went 4-of-8 including a three-run home run in game two to take CS Offensive MVP. Game one in Hornell was suspended due to heavy rains in the top of the third. The contest was completed the next night in Oneonta. Joe Gnacinski (Mercyhurst) picked up the game one win. Jeff Beall (Urbana) went 2.2 for the save.

End of the Season Awards

Player of the Year: Kevin Brice- Sherrill Silversmiths

Brice (Pomona-Pitzer) put up outstanding numbers this season. He led the league with his .400 batting average, which was 36 points ahead of the player in second place. His four home runs were tied for second and Brice landed eighth in the league with 32 RBI. He also led his team in several categories including hits (62), and hit by pitches (12). Brice was tied for first in doubles (ten) and walks (20). He was also second on the team in stolen bases (15).

(By Kathryne Davis)

Pitcher of the Year: Jordan Accetta- Hornell Dodgers

Accetta established a New York Collegiate Baseball League single-season mark and paced Hornell to the best record in league history. He went 9-0 in nine starts during the regular season. He struck out 45 and walked 19 in 55 and a third innings of work finishing with an ERA of 1.78. The Wofford Terrier broke the previous single-season high of seven wins held by Louie Bernardini (Saratoga Phillies ’06) and Jacob Petit (Utica ‘11).

Reliever of the Year: Zach Verner- Niagara Power

To be a closer one needs to be three things: clutch under pressure, trusted by coaches, and dominant on the mound. Safe to say Niagara Power closer Zach Verner was all three of those. Verner (North Georgia) finished the season tied for the league lead in saves with 11, along with one in the postseason against the eventual champion Hornell Dodgers and another in the NYCBL All-Star Game. He also had the lowest ERA among the closers at 1.66.

(By Cameron Boon)

Defensive Player of the Year: Anthony Massicci- Salt Cats

One doesn’t need to throw multiple shutouts or put up big-time statistics at the plate to influence the outcome of a baseball game. Such is the case with the Syracuse Salt Cats Anthony Massicci (Canisius). Massicci was an effective playmaker throughout the season. For the regular season, the 5-10 right-handed shortstop had 56 putouts, 116 assists, and a .945 fielding percentage.

(By Stephen Borgna)

Manager of the Year: Tom Kenney- Hornell Dodgers

Consistency. Guidance. Focus. Those are some of the words the Hornell Dodgers used to describe their manager, Tom Kenney. It was that combination which earned Kenney the 2014 New York Collegiate Baseball League Manager of the Year. The second-year coach led his team to an NYCBL record for regular season wins and a post-season title with a steady everyday approach.
