Records are Meant to Be Broken:

He Ain’t Heavy, He’s My Brother:

Siblings; always trying to one up each other. Is there a better stage for this timeless tradition than sports? Eli has twice as many rings as Peyton, Serena is 6th in career titles while Venus is 7th, and so on and so on. On a side note, why is it that the younger siblings tend to come out on top in the long run? As an older brother myself, this troubles me. The Fiorito brothers are no exception. As Dan Fiorito attempts to advance through the Yankees’ farm system, younger brother Cristian is busy breaking his Salt Cat RBI records. In yesterday’s doubleheader against the Silversmiths, Cristian collected four RBI, shattering Dan’s single season record of 28. Cristian also has plenty of time left to collect the nine necessary RBI to break the all-time Salt Cat record of 40, currently held by Dan. Interestingly enough, it seems that Wellsville slugger Scott DeJong will break the record first as he currently leads the league with 38.

No One Man Should Have All That Power:

The Wellsville Nitros aren’t going to let Scott DeJong keep all the limelight to himself; the new NYCBL home run leader’s team are on the verge of setting a new home run record.

The Nitros are just one long ball away from tying the record set by the Adirondack Trail Blazers in 2012. In their remaining nine games the Nitros should easily surpass the mark; at their current pace of 1.4 home runs per game, they are projected to shatter the record by approximately 12 dingers.

Player of the Week:

AARON PIGNA, SS, SYRACUSE JR CHIEFS

Ave Maria University
13/27 (1 2B), 9 R, 6 RBI, 4 BB, 7/11 SB, .481 AVG, .576 OBP

To say Aaron Pigna has been important in the Junior Chiefs’ recent hot streak is an understatement. In the past week, Syracuse has scored 59 runs with a record of 6-3. One out of every four (15/59) runs the Junior Chiefs scored were the product of Pigna’s bat. The righty shortstop now leads the NYCBL in SB, AVG, and OBP.

Sabermetric:

Aaron Pigna reached base an astounding 19 times in 33 plate appearances last week, making his OBP a stellar .576 for the same stretch (9 games).

Pitcher of the Week:

DWAYNE SNIDER, SP, ROCHESTER RIDGEMEN

Texas Lutheran University
9.0 IP, 0 R, 2 H, 2 BB, 11 K, 0.00 ERA, 0.44 WHIP

It’s hard for a pitcher to win an “of the week” award while playing in just one game that week, harder still when it resulted in a no decision. Dwayne Snider was just that good; the righty hurler tossed nine no-hit innings against the Silversmiths on Friday. Unfortunately for Snider, Sherrill’s Kevin Carpenter also decided to throw nine no-hit innings as well in one of the most incredible occurrences in NYCBL history. Both starters lost their no-hitters in the 10th, but Rochester spared Snider some anguish by winning the game after he left.

Sabermetric:

For the outing, Snider held batters to an average of .071, allowing just two hits in 28 at bats. Combined with just two walks, Snider’s WHIP of 0.44 was even more stellar.

Player of the Day:

CAMERON FRIESS, C, WELLSVILLE NITROS

Texas St. University
5-7 (3 2B, 1 SF), 0 R, 5 RBI, 0 BB, 0 K, .327 AVG, .327 OBP

It’s icing on the cake when a team like Wellsville gets a big day out of one its elite bats. Friess stepped up in the Nitros’ double header against the Red Wings Sunday, driving in five over the course of the two games, including a walk-off game winner at the end of game one.

Sabermetric:

Friess raised his average 38 points Sunday (.212 to .250) after going 5-7 on the day. His OBP saw similar increases rising from .303 to .327.

Pitcher of the Day:

MICHAEL RYNERSON, SYRACUSE SALT CATS

St. John Fisher College
W (3-2) 7.0 IP, 5 H, 1 R, 0 BB, 5 K, 5.33 ERA, 1.37 WHIP

Rynerson earned his second quality start (>6.0 IP < 3 runs allowed) and first complete game in a shortened contest against the Silversmiths Sunday. Allowing just five base runners on the night, Rynerson earned a much-needed win for a Salt Cats team battling to hold 4th place in the NYCBL standings.

Sabermetric:

Against Rynerson, Sherrill batters hit just .192, which due to the lack of hits, hit batters, and sacrifice flies, also acts as the Smitties on base percentage for the night. Rynerson needed just 80 pitches to finish the game, translating to an average of just over 11 pitches an inning.

2013 NYCBL Playoff Tie Breaking Scenarios

1.) If there is a tie(s) for any place(s) in the standings, then the results of the in-season head-to-head competition shall be used to break that tie. If those teams are still tied after head to head is looked at or the tied teams did not play during the regular season and the tie is for the last remaining playoff spot a one game playoff will take place between the clubs. A coin toss will be used to determine home field for the one game playoff.

2.) If there is a tie among three or more teams for a place in the standings, the league shall use the overall records of the tied teams against each other as the tie-breaker. The team(s) with the best record vs. each other shall be given the higher seed. Between the remaining two teams the procedure for the two-team tiebreaker shall be used. If those teams are still tied after head to head is looked at and the tie is for the last remaining playoff spot a one game playoff will take place between the clubs. A coin toss will be used to determine home field for the one game playoff.

3.) If there is a tie among two or more teams for a place in the standings, and after comparing the overall records of the tied teams against each other or the teams have not played head-to-head and there still remains a tie, then the committee shall use the best record against the highest seeded teams remaining in descending order as the tiebreaker.

4.) If after comparing everything above and the tie still can't be broken. The team who has allowed the fewest runs per game will be the higher seed.

5.) Final tiebreaker shall result in a coin toss by the League office.

   • If for whatever the reason the regular season (40 games by each team) can't be completed by Wednesday, July 24th the overall winning percentage will be used to determine seeding/playoff spots. If there is ties in winning percentage precede the same way you would to break ties in the standings (see above).

   • Also note that if a one game playoff cannot be completed because of weather or any other related circumstance by Wednesday, July 24th at 12pm. Head to Head record will determine who makes the playoffs. If the teams still remain tied or have not played against each other during the regular season. A coin toss will then be used to determine which team advances into the playoffs as a last case scenario if a tie can't be broken.

   • Once playoffs have started the highest remaining seeded team gets precedent in the event that weather or any other related circumstance doesn't allow for the games to be played. The league office will determine whether this happen based on circumstance. All effort will be done to make sure game(s) are played. This goes for any semifinal and championship series. No championship Game will be played after Wednesday, July 31st at 7pm. If the series has not started yet the highest remaining seeded team will be named the league champion. If only one game can be played the winner of that game shall be named the league champion. If the teams split the first two games and game three cannot be played the highest remaining seeded team shall be named the league champion.

Playoff Format

The top six teams will qualify for postseason play. The top two seeded teams will earn a bye into one of the two semifinal series. The remaining four teams seeded 3-6 will play in one game playoff with 3 vs. 6 and 4 vs. 5 with the higher seeded team hosting the game. The two winners will advance to play the top two seeded teams in a best of three semifinal series 1 vs. 4/5 winner and 2 vs. 3/6 winner. The series will alternate home, away, home with the higher seed hosting the 1st game of the series. The two winners will then play in a best of three NYCBL Championship series with the highest remaining team earning the rights to host game 1 and game 3 if necessary.
