The Daily Recap:

Wellsville 5, Olean 3
WELLSVILLE, N.Y. – The Oilers jumped out to an early 3-0 lead, but a five-run seventh inning paced the Nitros to the win. Christopher Kemp (Pitt. Bradford) led the way for the Nitros, going 2-3 with two RBIs. Kyle Perez (SUNY Brockport) went the distance, giving up three runs on eight hits. Michael Fahrman (Florida) went 2-2 with one RBI for Olean, who has now lost two straight.

Oneonta 6, Sherrill 1
SHERRILL, N.Y. – Oneonta’s pitching was rock solid tonight as the Outlaws took down the Silversmiths 6-1. Oneonta was led by Ben Mauseth (Grand Canyon) and Taylor Hicks (Georgia). Mauseth was a monster at the plate, going 3-5 with five RBI, including his first home run of the season. Hicks threw seven shutout innings, giving up three hits and striking out eight. Reid Neal (Florida Atlantic) drove in the only run for Sherrill.

Niagara 2, Salt Cats 1
NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. – In a low scoring battle, the Power edged the Salt Cats. Both starting pitchers were the highlight of this game. Perry Turner went seven innings, giving up only one earned on four hits in the win. In a losing effort, Brad Banker (St. Martin’s) gave up two runs, both unearned, on three hits while fanning seven. This was the third straight loss for the Salt Cats.

Hornell 8, Twins 0
HORNELL, N.Y. – The Dodgers controlled from start to finish, as they blanked the Twins 8-0. Brandon Sandoval (Vanguard) and Spencer Scorza (Cornell) each had two RBI to pace Hornell. NYCBL Game of the Day:
Friday, June 6, 2014:
Niagara at Olean, 7pm

Both teams are coming off close games Thursday night: Niagara pulled out the win while Olean gave up a lead in their loss.

The Power and Oilers will play three games in two days; two of which will be at Bradner Stadium.

The Oilers will look to end a two-game losing streak after winning their season opener, and they will need to get the bats going again. Since putting up 13 runs in their first game, they have only scored six in their two losses combined.

The Power will hope to build on their defensive efforts from Thursday and look to get the bats going as well.

Hitter of the Day: Ben Mauseth, SS, Oneonta Outlaws
3-5, 1 2B, 1 HR, 5 RBI, .600 AVG, .600 OBP

Mauseth (Grand Canyon) took matters into his own hands tonight, as he shined in his 2014 debut for the Outlaws. He started the season with a bang, hitting a double and a home run in his first game. The Tubac, Arizona native couldn’t have asked for a better start, and will look to build on this performance in Friday’s game.

Pitcher of the Day: Zachary Krivda, P, Hornell Dodgers
1-0, 6.0 IP, 0 R, 3 H, 11 K, 2 BB, 0.00 ERA, .143 OAVG

Gem. That is one of the many words that can be used to describe Krivda’s (Penn St-Allegheny) performance Thursday night. He threw six shutout innings and fanned 11 of the 24 batters he faced, giving up only three hits. After his first start, Krivda has produced a very impressive .830 WHIP and a .250 OOBP. Krivda will have a tough act to follow in his second start but if it is anything like this one, he will be turning some heads.

NYCBL Alumni Update: Dan Fiorito, SS, Syracuse Salt Cats ’11-‘12

Fiorito was signed by the New York Yankees in August 2012 as a non-drafted free agent. He started off the 2013 season in Advanced-A with the Tampa Yankees. He had some success in his 74 games, producing a .272 batting average and a .356 OBP. He then spent 3 games with AA Trenton, and did not record a hit in three games. Fiorito played six games with Scranton/ Wilkes-Barre (AAA) and had a .240 average in 25 at-bats. This season, Fiorito is batting .253 with a .300 OBP with the Trenton Thunder (AA). It has been a solid two seasons for Fiorito, as he looks to make the jump to the big league in the near future.
