NYCBL Daily Recap

Hornell 4 Genesee 3 (10 Innings)

Houghton, N.Y. — The Dodgers opened with a burst and went out with a bang, scoring the game’s first three runs in the top of the first, and the eventual winner in the extras. Anthony Santoro (Monroe CC) drove home the go-ahead with a single in the 10th inning. Neither starter-Troy Montemayor (Baylor) for Hornell and John Kopicky for Genesee (Ohio Northern)—earned a decision but both recorded quality starts.

Sherrill 3 Oneonta 0 (7 Innings)

Sherrill, N.Y. – Thomas Bond (SUNY Oneonta) needed just 73 pitches to toss a complete game shutout, limiting the Outlaws to just five hits and one walk in seven frames of work. Zack Kesterson (Duke) doubled and scored twice to pace the Silversmiths in the victory.

Oneonta 6 Sherrill 0 (7 Innings)

Sherrill, N.Y. – Oneonta was quick to repay the Silversmiths the favor of a shutout while also taking care to double their opponent’s game run total. Wofford College product Adam Scott (see more below) was lights out, weaving a complete game shutout. The top and heart of the Outlaw’s lineup were sterling, combining for four RBI and three runs scored.

Olean 9 Wellsville 2

Olean, N.Y. – Chalk up another complete game for Austin Bizzle (Alabama State). The righty held the Nitros in check, allowing just two runs on nine hits. David “Bubba” Hollins (see more below) capped off his stellar week with a two-run triple.

Junior Chiefs 11 Cortland 8

Cortland, N.Y. – The starters for both teams combined for just four runs (three earned) allowed in this slugfest, but could only summon 7.2 IP between the pair. Justin Healey (Widener—see more below) drove in three for Syracuse, while Yale Hughes (West Liberty) accomplished the same feat for the Crush.

Twins 5 Rochester 4 (10 Innings)

Rochester, N.Y. – Errors were the difference in this contest as the Twins were able to turn both Rochester errors into unearned runs, the second being the eventual go-ahead run in the tenth. Credit where it’s due: batters 1-4 for Geneva combined for eight hits, four RBI and three runs; Rochester starter Josh Rolls (Midland Lutheran) for going the full nine in the loss.

Olean 2 Wellsville 1

Olean, N.Y. – The Oilers struck it rich on a walk-off error in the bottom of the ninth to draw even at .500. Hard to fault any pitcher in a game where all runs scored were unearned. StigErik McElhinney (Nichols) was brilliant in the loss, throwing seven innings, allowing just one unearned run while fanning seven. Brandon Schlimm (St. Bonaventure) was just a bit better; his lone run was also unearned and his eight strikeouts coupled with just four hits and two walks surrendered, allowed the Oilers to come away victors.

NYCBL Alumni Update

Tim Hudson-Hornell '96

The most decorated of NYCBL alum, Hudson has refused to let time slow him down in his quest for rings. He finally found one last season with the defending champion Giants. The four-time MLB All-Star decided to give it another go in 2015. The 39-year old has not finished a season with an ERA above 4.00 for eight consecutive seasons, and while 2015 has not been an ideal year for himself or the Giants, he continues to add notches to his belt, most recently passing hall of famer Dazzy Vance for 66th all-time on the MLB strikeout list in a seven inning performance against Pittsburgh. The once 20-game winner is 4th amongst active pitchers in K’s with 2,162 and 1st in wins with 217 according to baseballreference.com.

NYCBL Game of the Day:

Wellsville Nitros at Olean Oilers

After the drama of a walk-off error unfolded yesterday, the prospect of a rematch is promising. The Nitros best the league’s second best team ERA with a 1.65 while Olean holds a respectable 2.64. David Hollins (St. Petersburg) leads the way for Olean with a .345 batting average and 9 RBI. The Nitros will trust Adam Schmitt (Concordia) to try and foil Hollins continue off his last start in which he went six frames, giving up only one run.

This Date in NYCBL History:

2012-Brad Rush (St. John Fisher) finished 3-for-3 with three runs scored and three RBI as Olean downed Niagara 10-5. Rush collected two doubles and walked twice during the game.

Five NYCBL alums rank among Baseball America's Top 500

The 2015 Major League Baseball Draft starts today, and Baseball America recently released its list of this year's Top 500 prospects including former New York Collegiate Baseball League players Mike Buna (Sherrill '13), Ryan Clark (Syracuse Jr. Chiefs '13), Dan de La Calle (Utica '10), Tom Nagy (Syracuse Salt Cats '14) and Ka'ai Tom (Sherrill '13).

Player of the Day

Justin Healey – Syracuse Junior Chiefs

3-4 | BB, 1 2B, SAC Fly | 2 R, 3 RBI | 2 PO, 4 A

Healey, the Widener University utility man, made Sunday a productive one at the dish, producing five of Syracuse’s 11 runs. The Ocean City New Jersey native not only picked up his first two runs and extra-base hit of the year, but also raised his average from .222 to .365 in the course of one game. If Healey can settle in and bat even remotely close to his current average, he’ll be doing it in what currently ranks as the NYCBL’s best lineup in batting average (1st hitting .282), second best at producing runs (t-2 with 30) and third best and driving them in (t-3 with 20). The Junior Chiefs have the early look of an offensive juggernaut.

Pitcher of the Day

Adam Scott– Oneonta Outlaws

W (1-0), 7 IP, CG, SO | 0R | 6H BB 11K

Adam Scott is a popular name these days. You can find one A-listing in Hollywood or one hitting the links down under. You won’t have to look any further than Oneonta for the Outlaw of the same name who’s wanted for stealing the wind right from under the bats of eight different Smitties that trotted to the plate Sunday. Scott (Wofford) began his first NYCBL start by making a statement; striking out the side. Scott’s total of 11 strikeouts came in just seven innings, giving him an absurd K/9 rate of 14.14-small sample size be damned, that’s dominance. The only concern an observer may have is that logically, in a game where a pitcher has a high K count it’s more often than not accompanied by a high pitch count. It’s true, Scott did toss 122 pitches, a pretty full workload, but consider this; the lefty hurler finished nearly as nasty as he started, striking out two of the last three batters he faced to close out the game. With stuff that still produces swings and misses that deep in games, it’s hard to see Scott not making a lasting impact, even if it’s not on a screen or green.

Player of the Week*

David “Bubba” Hollins – Olean Oilers

8GP | 10-29 | 6 BB, 2 2B, 1 3B, 1 HR | 4 R, 9 RBI

.345 AVG .457 OBP .586 SLG 1.043 OPS | 4 PO, 24 A, .966 FLD%

David “Bubba” Hollins (St. Petersburg) has started his summer with a bang, quickly asserting himself as a force to be reckoned with in the batter’s box. The Orchard Park native’s slash line may be impressive, but it’s even more so when you consider the following: Hollins has recorded at least one hit in every game this season giving him a hit streak of eight games. If that’s not enough you could also consider his fielding prowess. In those eight games he’s made just one error while combining to record 28 outs. Though he’s dabbled at first, Hollins mainly mans the hot corner as he’s played there in seven of his eight games. His fielding percentage of .966 is a solid one and due to the small sample size, one error can skew just how good he’s been. A .966 would put him in the top half of the MLB in terms of steadiness in the field, one place above Padres third baseman Will Middlebrooks and one spot behind LAA’s David Freese.

Pitcher of the Week*

Vincent Santarsiero – Genesee Rapids

2GP, (1-0) 17 IP, CG, SO | 2 R, 1 ER | 8 H 2 BB 9 K

0.53 ERA 0.59 WHIP | .148 OAVG .238 OOBP .179 OSLG

In just one week, Santarsiero has distinguished himself as a workhorse to watch. The 6-7 righty is as tall as he is imposing on the mound as batters are hitting a pitiful .148 against him after 63 trots to the dish. The Fontbonne University product has been efficient needing only 198 pitches to cruise through 17 innings of two-run ball. That’s a rate of 11.6 pitches per frame and just 3.1 pitches per plate appearance. Both averages would serve as the best such mark in the major leagues amongst all pitchers. Efficiency is the key to mastery, and at this point Santarsiero has it.

ABOUT THE NYCBL:
The New York Collegiate Baseball League, founded in 1978, is a summer wood bat development league for professional baseball. Major League Baseball funds a small portion of the league’s annual budget. The league gives college players who have not yet signed a professional contract the opportunity to develop their skills at a higher level of play, gain experience with wood bats, and be evaluated by scouts. The NYCBL is located in scenic Upstate New York.

Teams play a 46 game regular season schedule with games beginning on May 30th and ending in late July. All games are 9 innings, with most doubleheaders scheduled as a 9 inning game followed by a 7 inning game. The All-Star game will be played on July 16th in Oneonta, and the League Championship Series concludes in early August.
