x-clinched playoffs + - clinched home field

The Daily Recap:

Red Wings 5, Cortland 4
CORTLAND, N.Y.—The Red Wings used a four-run sixth inning to pick up their third straight win. Mark Huddle (John Carroll) clubbed his first home run and drove in four RBI for Geneva. Zachary Racusin (Marist) went 2-4 with a double and two runs scored in a losing effort. Cortland has now dropped four straight.

Hornell 9, Wellsville 3
HORNELL, N.Y.—The Dodgers got out to an early lead and were able to build on it, as they matched their franchise high with their 34th win of the season. Jordan Accetta (Wofford) is continuing to build on his record breaking performance, as he moved to 9-0 on the season. Accetta gave up one run on four hits over six innings of work. Hank Morrison (Mercyhurst) and Thad Johnson (St Bonaventure) each plated two for Hornell, as Morrison hit his second homer of the season and took over the league lead in RBI.

Oneonta 7, JR Chiefs 0
SYRACUSE, N.Y.—The Outlaws scored in all the even numbered innings as four pitchers combined for the shutout. Kody Ruedisili (Wofford) went 2-4 and drove in three RBI for Oneonta, who have now won two in a row. Ben Mauseth (Grand Canyon) went 2-5 and swiped two bags in the game, moving him to 35 on the season, good for second best in league history since 2006. The Outlaws are still one and a half games back of the Red Wings for first in the East.

Twins 8, Genesees 1
HOUGHTON, N.Y.—The Twins built an early lead and were able to add some more runs late as they cruised to a playoff clinching win. Fernando Garcia (Murray State) had a stellar night at the plate, going 4-5 with a homer and two RBI as well as two runs scored and a stolen base. Zach Goldstein (Southern New Hampshire) also plated two runs for Geneva. Eddie Emes (Penn State Greater Allegheny) was superb on the mound, giving up one run on just one hit in eight innings, as he moved to 4-0 on the year.

Rochester 4, Olean 0
ROCHESTER, N.Y.—The Ridgemen used a lights out pitching performance from Connor Hamilton to clinch their first spot in the NYCBL playoffs since 2009. Hamilton (Cedarville) pitched his fourth complete game of the season, giving up just five hits while fanning three. Alexander Mumm (Judson) helped Hamilton with the run support, as he plated two of the runs for Rochester. With their 25th win, Rochester set a new regular season best for AIA teams in the NYCBL.

Today in NYCBL History:

July 22, 2007—Dusty Odenbach and Kyle Bellamy combined to one hit the Bolivar A’s in the Red Wings’ 3-0 win. Odenbach went eight innings strong, giving up the one hit while striking out ten.

NYCBL Game of the Day:

Red Wings at Oneonta 7:00 pm

They meet again. The battle for first in the East continues as the Red Wings travel to Oneonta on Tuesday night.

The lead for the Red Wings is currently a game and a half and the Outlaws are keeping pace. Geneva is 7-3 in their last ten and has won three straight, while Oneonta are 8-2 in their last ten and have won two in a row. They have split the season series 3-3.

Oneonta and Geneva have had solid seasons at the plate, as the teams are third and fourth respectively in RBI. Oneonta is fourth in the league in runs while the Red Wings are fifth.

The Red Wings are also second in the league with 14 home runs.

Hitter of the Day: Fernando Garcia, OF, Geneva Twins

4-5, HR, 2 RBI, 2 R, SB, .367 AVG, .410 OBP

Big players shine in big games, and Fernando Garcia did just that for the Twins. Garcia (Murray State) was a force at the plate as he led the way in a playoff-clinching win for the Twins. He went yard for the second time this season and drove in two. The Geneva outfielder score twice and swiped a sack. Garcia brought his AVG up .023 and his OBP up .020 points. His SLG rose the most, as he brought it up .046 points to a .551.

Pitcher of the Day: Connor Hamilton, P, Rochester Ridgemen

Day: W (5-2), 9.0 IP, 0 ER, 5 H, 3 K
2.00 ERA, .900 WHIP, .217 OAVG, .247 OOBP

Connor Hamilton didn’t shy from the spotlight either. The Rochester hurler shined just as bright as he led the Ridgemen to victory and also spot in the 2014 NYCBL postseason. Hamilton (Cedarville) hurled his fourth complete game of the season (tied for most in the league) and in those four games, he has given up a combined three earned runs. In nine starts, he has gone no less than seven innings (he leads the league in innings pitched with 72), and Hamilton is unbeaten in his last seven starts after opening the season 0-2. With this performance, his ERA dropped .29 points.

NYCBL Alumni Update:

Greg Holle, P, Saratoga Phillies ’08

Huntsville Stars, Double-A Southern League

The former Saratoga Phillies’ pitcher has been as high as Triple-A in his five seasons so far in the minors.

Holle has played 161 games in his minor league career and has produced a record of 12-17. He is sporting a career ERA 3.60 in 235 innings pitched and has earned 35 saves. He has 172 career strikeouts and a 1.204 WHIP.

This season, he is 1-2 with a 3.00 ERA and has nine strikeouts in 12 innings of work.

The Loudonville, N.Y. native was drafted by the Milwaukee Brewers in the 11th round of the 2010 MLB June Amateur Draft.
