The Daily Recap (Continued on Page 2):

Olean 15, Red Wings 0
OLEAN, NY—The Oilers are mathematically out of the playoff hunt, but don’t tell them that. Perhaps it was the frustration of losing 12 games this year by one run, but Olean’s drubbing of the Red Wings was the first of 29 runs they would score Thursday. In game one of their two-foe double header Ted Dilts (El Camino College), Austin Johnson (South Florida CC) and Dylan Callahan (Trinity) all chipped in three RBI while Kevin McMahon (El Camino College) struck out 11 in a complete game shutout.

Game 1: Cortland 6, Sherrill 5
Game 2: Cortland 6, Sherrill 4

SHERRILL, NY—Sparked by Yale Hughes’s (West Liberty) first-inning grand slam, the Crush took the lead for good off Henry Pellicciotti’s (Broome CC) go-ahead two-run double in the bottom of the fifth. Tom Taplin (University of Buffalo) allowed five runs and struck out six in 6.0 IP in the game-one win.

Game two saw another six runs produced by the Crush lineup, led by Zachary Racusin (Marist) who went 2-2 on the day with a run scored and a run batted in. Greg Jasek (Clarkson) earned his third win of the season, pitching the complete seven innings, allowing four runs (three earned) while striking out seven.

Game 1: Oneonta 9, Salt Cats 8
Game 2: Salt Cats 6, Oneonta 5

ONEONTA, NY—Matt Pelt (Wofford) played the pinch-hit hero, hitting a walk-off double in the eighth (of a scheduled seven-inning game) as Oneonta attempts to catch up to the Red Wings in the Eastern battle for home field advantage. Ethan Evanko (Grand Canyon U) earned the win in a stellar relief appearance, going 1.2, allowing just one hit and striking out three.

The Salt Cats struck back in game two, scoring two runs in the top of the seventh (the final inning) to take a three-run lead and then withstood Oneonta’s two-run rally in the bottom half of the inning to hang on for the win. Adam Thoryk (St. John Fisher) had singled three times, scored twice and drove in one in the Cats’ winning effort.

Olean 14, Wellsville 1
OLEAN, NY—The Oilers continued their barrage of runs and complete games against the Nitros Thursday evening. Ted Dilts (El Camino) paced the offense once again, going 2-4 with two runs and two RBI, and Austin Bizzle (Gulf Coast CC) went nine frames, allowing one unearned run, three hits, three walks while striking out 11.

Red Wings 10, Twins 9
GROVE, NY—The battle of Geneva had to be settled in extras when Julio Nuñez (Alabama A&M) scored on an error in the bottom of the 10th. Andrew Utterback (Alabama A&M) paced the Red Wings with three RBI and a run scored. Jeremy Hutchinson (Neumann) earned the win in relief allowing three runs in six innings while fanning nine.

Today in NYCBL History:
July 25, 2012—The Geneva Red Wings scored six in the bottom of the ninth to walk off and beat Adirondack in a shootout, 15-14. The teams combined for 34 hits as all but three players recorded a hit.
NYCBL Game of the Day:
Rochester at Niagara, 7 pm

The Power are desperate for a win in order to stay ahead of the Genesee Rapids in the race for the final open playoff spot in the West. Though they lead the head-to-head 4-2 this season (as opposed to a season record of 4-3 against the Rapids), the Ridgemen are aiming to spoil their familiar foes chances at earning a place at the postseason table, perhaps even more so following last night’s 10-3 loss at the hands of Rochester.

For Niagara, now would be the perfect time to heat up after losing three of the last four games. Rochester had won four straight before losing to the Power yesterday.

All-star Ryan Wagley (Arlington Baptist College) leads Niagara in hitting (among regular starters) with an average of .295 and currently has a hitting streak of seven games.

Fellow Western all-star Nick Wolyniec (Bergen CC) is the Ridgemen’s top bat, hitting .362 with 26 RBI and 16 R on the season.

NYCBL Alumni Update:
Jasvir Rakkar, P, WEB ’11
Boise Hawks, (Chicago Cubs)
Class-A Short Season Northwest League

A 26th round pick in the 2012 MLB Amateur Draft, Rakkar (Stony Brook University) had an impressive first two seasons in the minors. In 2012, pitching for the AZL Cubs (Arizona League) he recorded one save and pitched 10 innings over seven games, striking out 13 with a strong ERA of 2.70. In 2013 he went 4-1 with one save in 20 relief appearances with his current team, the Boise Hawks.

2014 has been a busy year for Rakkar as he’s bounced from the Iowa Cubs (Triple-A) to the Daytona Cubs (A+) and to Hawks (Single-A Short Season). It should be noted that at the AAA level, Rakkar was perfect in his lone inning of work, striking out one in the heavy-hitting Pacific Coast League. As it stands, he has yet to allow a run at home with Boise in 2014 in three appearances.

Hitter of the Day: Ted Dilts, 1B/3B, Olean Oilers

| Game 1 | 2/5, 1 2B, 2 R, 3 RBI, .351 AVG, .420 OBP |
| Game 2 | 2/4, 1 BB, 2 R, 2 RBI, .356 AVG, .426 OBP |

Accounting for nine of the astounding 29 runs Olean managed to score Thursday, Dilts (El Camino College) continued his impressive week, one that now has seen him record four straight multi-hit games over a span of 48 hours. The lefty bat has not gone down quietly in 2014, despite his team being eliminated from playoff contention. Since Tuesday he’s gone 9/20 with one walk, three doubles, five runs scored, and eight RBI good for an average of .450 and an OBP of .476.

Pitcher of the Day: Kevin McMahon, P, Olean Oilers

W (2-3), 9.0 IP, 0 R, 2 BB, 4 H, 11 K, 3.44 ERA, 1.59 WHIP
.254 OAVG, .350 OOBP

Incredibly, McMahon, the second El Camino Warrior to be honored in today’s Game Day, wasn’t the only Oiler to throw a complete game Thursday; teammate Austin Bizzle (Gulf Coast CC) also went the full nine, also fanning 11 but his unearned run falls just short of McMahon’s shutout. The latter had only made one previous start, a five inning victory back on July 10th in which he topped the Ridgemen in five innings of one-run ball. His combined line as a starter is 14.0 IP, one run, eight hits, four walks and 16 strikeouts, resulting in an ERA of 0.64, a WHIP of 0.86, and a K/9 of 10.3.

NYCBL Tweet of the Day

@JL_Baseball

Must have missed this but congrats to the @SyrSaltCats for making the playoffs for the 3rd straight year. Mi the 315 everyday

Niagara 10, Rochester 3

ROCHESTER, NY—Niagara moved a step closer to clinching the final playoff spot as they blew out the Ridgemen Thursday night. Jarrett James (Ball State) doubled, walked twice, scored twice, and drove in two while Ivan Acuna (Catawba Valley CC) doubled and drove in three. Josh Schulman (University of Rochester) picked up his third win on the season, allowing two runs in seven innings.

Hornell 8, Genese 2

GENESEE, NY—The Dodgers continued their impressive season as Hank Morrison (Mercyhurst) and Blake Thomas (Webster) each pitched two runs and two RBI, while Taylor Slepski (Mercyhurst College North East) turned in five scoreless innings in the victory.
